Transcript of Remarks made by Ray Henle on Three Star Extra (Blue Sunoco) Radio Broadcast over NBC Network (WRC in Washington) on Tuesday Night, 6 December 1960

"Fifty years, the late John Foster Dulles gave to the service of his country. His service was to search for the cause of peace with justice. It became his lot to have to joust with the world's greatest conspiracy against such a peace. He met the issue courageously, head-on, when necessary willingly went to the brink to save peace and the honor of his country.

"Today, fifty years of service were acknowledged in a most unique way. A United States postage stamp was issued, bearing Mr. Dulles' portrait, one of a series of famous Americans, the third in a recent triumvirate, which included also Senator Walter F. George of Georgia, and Senator Robert A. Taft. The dedication of the Dulles memorial stamp was attended by members of Mr. Dulles' family, except Mrs. Dulles, his widow, who unfortunately fractured an ankle in a fall night before last. High officials of the government, and the Dean of the diplomatic corps, Sevilla-Sacasa, were on hand.

"Postmaster General Summerfield noted that the cancellation for the first-day covers bears the words, 'peace with justice.' The more we go beyond the years when John Foster Dulles served as Secretary of State, the more the value of his great works are appreciated. Three Star Extra reports with pleasure today's honoring of a great American's memory and is happy to recall that during his tenure as Secretary, we were privileged to give him support. That's tonight's edition of Three Star Extra--Ray Henle reporting."
